CRIMES AND THEIR PUNISH-

PROM THE COMIC BLACKSTORE The law relating to crimes and punishme forms what is termed in every country the crim nal code. though, if the code does onell that whi is right, it assume unjust to call it evisitated. We can be England, it is demonstrated the pilons of Cross, because the sorvering is approach to be hey every injury done to the public. Why is charcal amerimes found among coal? Because the slate which covers the coal layers takes fire, in comesquence of its containing sulphit; in such minate division, as readily to attract oxyigem and inflame; thus coavering regetable remains into charcold. This curious fact is recorded by Dr. Richardson, the naturalist, in Franklin's Expedition of Discovery, respecting the abele on the coasts of the Arctic Sea. This shale composed precipitous banks, which, in many places, were on fire.
